Dear Kathy,

Thanks for your 12/12 and the enclosure. I'll ~~not~~ say where I got it and I'll explain why there is little likelihood. Roger and I used to be very good friends, beginning when he was with CBS News. When he was working on his fine book on Lifton I used the last couple of days a student who worked for me her spare time to have her search the Meagher archive for him. Advanced the money for the copier, etc., and she did well for him. When with my limitations I really needed her work. Lifton made much trouble for Hood in an effort to suppress what he wrote Sylvia. Cost them much in legal fees and closed that Archive until the lawyers told them OK to let people use it. Time passed and Roger was representing Groden in a suit vs Poinsner, Random House, the NY Times. They dumped many favorable reviews of Case Closed on the judge with a copy of it. Roger drafted a fine affidavit of some 40 pages based on Case Open. I made corrections, signed and returned it when there was no time for me to have a copy made. He promised it over and over again and I still do not have it. I've not heard from him in months. I have no explanation.

With all your troubles do not take time to hunt for things for me now, but thanks for the effort and for taking the time. Hope your son-in-law is OK now. And that the files are straightened out again. Whenever you can it will be helpful. And appreciated.

Roger sent me the first of Waybright's memos that Livingstone gave him and since then only unexplained silence.

I continue to discover more missing that only Waybright could have taken and in which only Lifton had any interest.

I hope Roger does get more of those memos and uses them to add to what I regard as a first-rate job he did on his book. To which he gave a title he liked that would kill it for commercial sale.

Please excuse the rush, thanks, and best to you all,

Harold
